

COLONEL IS NOT SEEKING OFFICEBut Governor Glasscock Believes Roosevelt Will Accept.

WAITING FOR PARTY'S CALL

West Virginia Governor Calls on Character of San Juan Hill at His New York Office and Discusses "Weather Conditions"—Glasscock Admits He Is Not Authorized to Speak for the Former President.

New York, Jan. 27.—William E. Glasscock, governor of West Virginia, called at the Outlook office to see Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and took part in a luncheon engagement with the former president. When the governor left he said that he still was of the opinion that Mr. Roosevelt should and would be nominated.

"I think he will never be a candidate for the office," Mr. Glasscock said. "I am not authorized to speak for Colonel Roosevelt, nor am I attempting to do so, but it is my opinion that he will have to be nominated without being a candidate."

"Do you think that he would accept the nomination?"

"It is my personal opinion that he would if the American people ask him to accept. This is not based, however, on anything that Colonel Roosevelt said. We discussed the weather conditions in general—but nothing about the political situation that I would care to repeat. I do not think, however, that Colonel Roosevelt will be a candidate in the sense that Clark, Harmon and Wilson are candidates."

Governor Glasscock said he was not here to urge Mr. Roosevelt to define his position, or as the bearer of an appeal to him to do so from other governors. He would hardly be so presumptuous, he said, that a great majority of the Republicans of West Virginia wanted Mr. Roosevelt to be the nominee. He believed that the state would send a solid Roosevelt delegation to the Chicago convention.

"Do you think Colonel Roosevelt will be nominated?" he was asked.

"That is my opinion," he replied.

"And elected?"

"I have no doubt about his election if he is nominated."

"What objection, if any, have the people of West Virginia to renominating President Taft?"

"Well, our people want Roosevelt."

"If President Taft should be nominated do you think Colonel Roosevelt would work for his election?"

"I do, but I am not authorized to speak for any one but myself."

Governor Glasscock declined to say whether he had been strengthened in his opinion that Colonel Roosevelt would accept the nomination, saying it was a matter which only Colonel Roosevelt could decide.

KNOX REJECTS THE OFFER

President Would Place Secretary on Supreme Bench.

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Taft wrote a letter to Secretary Knox of the state department recently offering him the appointment as associate justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy created by the death of Justice Harlan. Secretary Knox respectfully declined the offer.

The president is getting further away from United States Circuit Judge Hook each day. The latest objection to Judge Hook is a decision he rendered construing a Jim Crow car law, in which his judicial observations on the rights of the negro did not arouse enthusiasm among the colored people. It appears that the protest of the negroes had more influence with the president in determining Judge Hook's unavailability than did the protests of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission and other state officers.

STUBBS DECLARES HIMSELF

Kansas Governor Favors Roosevelt for the Presidency.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Governor W. R. Stubbs of Kansas dropped into the Roosevelt national committee headquarters here to announce his willingness to accept a membership in the body.

"Roosevelt is the logical man for the Republican party to nominate," he said. "He would carry Kansas by at least 75,000 and carry Missouri, too. There is a strong sentiment in favor of Roosevelt in my section of the country."

UNMASKED MEN ROB BANK

Two Bandits Hold Up Institution at Vancouver, B. C.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 27.—Two unmasked men, armed with revolvers, entered the Hill Crest branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, drove Manager Steaves and one of his clerks into the vault, knocked the other clerk unconscious with a blow from a revolver and escaped with $1,999, all the money in the till.

The police have a good description of the men, but have no idea of the direction they took in escaping.

This is the fourth time in two years that a branch of the Royal Bank in Vancouver has been robbed.

ITALY YIELDS TO
FRENCH DEMANDSIncident Arising From Seizure of Steamers Is Closed.

FRANCE CARRIES ALL POINTS

Diplomacy of the Republic Triumphs and All Questions Arising Under Terms of Settlement Will Be Referred to The Hague Tribunal for Adjustment—Turks Taken Prisoners Will Be Released.

Paris, Jan. 27.—The Franco-Italian incident arising from the seizure of the French steamers Manouba and Carthage by Italian war vessels was settled satisfactorily to both nations.

This announcement was made at the close of a meeting of the cabinet, which, after examination, approved the terms of the note agreed upon by Camille Barrere, the French ambassador at Rome, and the Marquis di San Giuliano, Italian minister of foreign affairs.

The twenty-nine Turks said to be members of the Turkish Red Crescent society, who were taken off the Manouba by the Italians and sent to Cagliari, are to be turned over immediately to the French consul at Cagliari, who will send them to France, where their identity will be verified by the French government. All questions of law arising from the seizure of both the Manouba and the Carthage will be referred to The Hague.

France has obtained all she stood out for, for the incident is now restored to the status quo and all questions arising from it may be referred to The Hague.

The settlement comes in good season, for the long deliberation of the diplomats was beginning to provoke a spirit of exasperation on the part of both the public and the politicians.

PUBLIC IS FAIRLY AMAZED

Socialists Have Most Members in German Reichstag.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—Although further gains by the Socialists had been expected the public is fairly amazed at the proportions of the victory they rolled up in the final elections. Government leaders make no pretense of concealing the anxiety with which they are awaiting the opening of the new parliament Feb. 7 and a section of the Conservative press, which has promptly christened it the "red reichstag," is demanding that it be dissolved the day it convenes.

With 110 seats in their possession the Socialists have a larger representation than any other single party has had since 1877 and in combination with the Radicals and Liberals they form a small majority. The Conservative Center block thus is destroyed and the chancellor is confronted by a reichstag in which the majority is openly adverse to his policies.

DROP FIGHT ON CHURCHILL

Unionist Leader Will Not Try to Prevent Home Rule Speeches.

Belfast, Jan. 27.—Lord Londonderry's letter to Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, concerning Mr. Churchill's address before a proposed Liberal meeting here on Feb. 8 in favor of home rule for Ireland, denotes a cessation of active efforts by the Unionist leaders to prevent Mr. Churchill speaking.

Each side to the controversy now is engaged in an endeavor to create a "corner" in the available halls of Belfast suitable for political meetings, while the business community of the city, alarmed over the possibility of rioting if the Liberal gathering is held, has petitioned the corporation to cancel all dates for gatherings in Ulster hall.

BIG INHERITANCE RECEIPTS

Wisconsin Gets $1,192,734 From Tax in 1911.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 27.—The sum of $1,192,734.77 inheritance taxes was paid into Wisconsin's state treasury during 1911. This figure is contained in the quarterly report of Inheritance Tax Investigator John Herrington. Satisfactory progress in the settlement of inheritance tax claims was made during the last quarter.

Gilbert E. Roe of New York, formerly a law partner of Senator La Follette, is making investigations in the East as to estates owing inheritance taxes to Wisconsin. In November and December he reported twenty-five such cases.

THREE DIE FROM COAL GAS

Milwaukee Family Overcome by Fumes From Stove.

Milwaukee, Jan. 27.—Charles Schultz, his wife and their foster son, William Bartel, were found dead at the Schultz home. Death resulted from asphyxiation. It is said that fumes from a coal stove overcame the family.

REV. DR. M. C. PETERS.

New York Minister Who Follows the Lead of Mayor Lew Shank.

DR. PETERS TURNS GROCER

Tries Plan to Help Poor by Cutting Middleman's Profits Out.

New York, Jan. 27.—Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters, emulating Mayor Lew Shank of Indianapolis, is going to run a grocery store here and sell full weights at low prices.

"I knew that the farmers were getting $9,000,000,000 for their products and that the consumers were paying $13,000,000,000 for them," said Dr. Peters, "and it seemed to me that that was too wide a margin."

"Christ wrought a miracle to feed the multitude," he continued. "I cannot work a miracle, but in the matter of bringing food to the poor people I believe that I can come pretty near it."

RULES COMMITTEE
CLOSES HEARINGS

Democrats Divided on Question of Money Trust Probe.

Washington, Jan. 27.—An effort to compromise the differences of the proponents of the money trust inquiry, as proposed by Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota, has failed. The house committee on rules closed its hearings on the so called money trust resolution of inquiry and will meet within a few days to decide whether to recommend to the house a special investigation of the subject.

The indications now are that this question will be threshed out in a caucus, with the probability that it will result in a bitter fight between the Bryanites and anti-Bryanites among the Democrats of the house of representatives.

Those who are supporting Representative Henry of Texas, chairman of the committee on rules, who favors an inquiry into the affairs of the so called money trust, have counted noses and declare confidence that the caucus will support their proposition. Representative Underwood of Alabama and other conservative leaders practically concede that if the matter is referred to a caucus the committee on rules will be instructed to report a money trust resolution fashioned along the lines of the one offered by Representative Lindbergh.

COLONEL MORTON IS DEAD

Civil War Veteran and Former Minnesota Politician.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 27.—Colonel Charles Adams Morton, a member of the staff of General Sherman in his famous march to the sea, one of the men instrumental in starting the Society of the Army of the Tennessee and a former member of the Minnesota state senate from St. Paul, died at a hospital in Chicago. Colonel Morton was seventy-two years old and is survived by a widow and a six-year-old son.

Colonel Morton went to St. Paul in 1872 and while there was engaged in the banking and real estate business. He represented his district in the state senate for several years. He came to Fargo in 1880 and organized the Exchange bank, of which he was president for a number of years.

PRESIDENT GOES ON TOUR

Will Visit New York, Cleveland, Columbus and Akron.

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Taft left Washington on a five-day trip that he will take to New York and Cleveland, Columbus and Akron, O., the most important journey, in the eyes of many of his friends, that he has planned since he got back to the White House from the West.

In New York the president will be the guest over night of his brother, Henry W. Taft, and will attend three dinners and one ball, but his political advisers are less interested in this part of the trip than they are in his first visit to Ohio since the Cincinnati elections last November. Mr. Taft will spend three days in his home state, make more than a dozen speeches and probably see many of the political leaders. He will not talk about any of his political opponents, it was said, but may review the achievements of his administrations.

POSTAGE STAMPS
TO BE CHANGED

New Set of Plates Being Made to Print Them.

BORDERS WILL BE DIFFERENT

Heads of Washington and Franklin Will Be Used, as at Present—Vaccination Against Typhoid Largely Successful—Martine Gets Mixed on Erickson Family.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Engravings and printing plates are now in process of manufacture at the bureau of engraving and printing to be used in issuing a new set of stamps for the postoffice department. There are at present eleven different kinds of stamps, but the designs in use are too much alike to be easily distinguished.

The new plates are being made to meet this difficulty. While the colors will not be changed materially, it is planned to have an entirely different border on five of the new plates to enable those handling mail to tell at a glance the denomination of the stamps.

The first six stamps are to bear the head of Washington, while the last five will have the head of Franklin, the first postmaster general.

Kenyon No Gambler.

Senator Kenyon is opposed not only to undue expenditures for senatorial bathrooms and the shipping of wet goods into dry territory, but he frowns upon gambling. While he has introduced measures to do away with the first two of the above named propositions he has not yet filed his official protest against the latter form of excitement. Nevertheless he is opposed to it not only on moral grounds, but he says further that he is unlucky.

"While I have never tried it extensively," said Senator Kenyon the other day in a general discussion of the question among his colleagues, "I know I could never win on a horse race. I feel about it the way a friend of mine who occasionally plays the ponies says he feels."

"Why," he said, "if I were Lazarus, dead and buried, and I heard the voice say, 'Lazarus, come forth!' I know that I would still come fifth."

Why Not Take a Chance?

The experiments that have been made recently to prevent the infection from typhoid germs by vaccination have been conducted by Dr. Leslie Leon Lumsden of the public health and marine service. He was asked if they had been successful.

"Not entirely," said Dr. Lumsden, "but they have proved effective in a large percentage of the cases we have tried. I believe that with results obtained from further research which we are now making we shall be entirely so. But the great difficulty we have in securing subjects for inoculation. Why, I don't know, for I think that every one ought to be willing to take a chance on the experiment where the outcome may determine whether he is going to spend eight weeks in a hospital or eternity in the grave."

A Different Erickson.

The clerk of the claims committee of the senate is John H. Erickson, for many years a newspaper man in South Dakota. A claim has been pending before the committee for years in which the fame of Erickson, the inventor of the Monitor, is challenged, the claimant setting forth that he discovered the principle that revolutionized naval warfare.

When the claim was before the committee for discussion not long ago Senator Martine of New Jersey startled the committee somewhat by exclaiming:

"Why not settle this dispute at once and ask Erickson himself. There he is," pointing to the clerk.

Mr. Erickson assured the committee that he was not the inventor and said further that, while Erickson was a Swede, Norway was his natal country. Clerk Erickson knew the Swedish genus and interviewed him in his newspaper days.

Poor Lo In Pictures.

There is now on exhibition at the office of the Society of the Archaeological Institute in Washington the most valuable collection of photographs in the world. They were taken by Edward S. Curtis among Indian tribes all over the western hemisphere. Mr. Curtis has been engaged in this work for fourteen years and has lived with Indians from the arctic circle to the torrid zone. His enterprise, which is purely scientific and undertaken for the purpose of making a pictorial history of all Indian tribes, was financed by J. Pierpont Morgan. He has not completed his work and may be engaged in it for several years yet.

Getting Ready to Chew Gum.

In spite of the fact that Senator Brown of Nebraska is a candidate to succeed himself and has an opponent in Representative Norris of the Fifth Nebraska district, there has thus far been little activity on the part of either in the way of campaigning.

"Why don't you do so and so?" asked one of his advisers of Senator Brown recently.

"Why should I?" questioned the senator. "If I begin to spit now I've got to keep it up. As a matter of fact, however, I expect to begin to chew gum in a few weeks."

Eavesdropping.

An eavesdropper was tried in a Pennsylvania court in March, 1818, and found guilty.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

Says He Was Treated Royally by American Press and Public.

IMPRESSED BY HOSPITALITY

Duke of Connaught Enjoyed His American Visit.

New York, Jan. 27.—As he boarded his private car at the Grand Central station to return to Ottawa, after five days' entertainment in the United States, the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada and uncle of King George V., turned to Ambassador Reid, who has been his host here, and said:

"We were very much impressed by the hospitality of your people. We were treated royally by the press and public. The duchess and myself are very grateful to the people of New York and we shall look forward with great pleasure to another visit. Our visit this time seems to have been too short."

TARIFF REVISION
BATTLE IN HOUSE

Metal Schedule Measure Taken Up for Consideration.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The tariff revision fight opened in the house when consideration of the metal tariff bill was taken up as the first of the measures which the Democratic leaders will attempt to force through congress. Attacked by the Republican side as a departure from Democratic pledges and as likely to be destructive to American labor and industry the bill went through five hours of stormy debate.

Replying to charges, when the bill was introduced in the house, that the Democrats had abandoned the farmer by not putting agricultural machinery on the free list in the bill, Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee retorted that it was not a part of the metal schedules of the tariff.

"We have put in here every item that relates to the metal schedules," he said. "It has been charged that this bill will let cheap Chinese pig iron in on the Pacific coast in large quantities. The gentleman who makes such charges ought to know that the matter of freight rates alone is enough to keep foreign iron and steel out of the Mississippi valley and all of that great territory where the American producer has a natural monopoly."

A crowded house listened for two hours to the opening speech of Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania, who explained the bill. Mr. Palmer said the measure would stimulate competition by permitting a slight increase in imports of metal products and would thereby somewhat lower prices. He denied it would have any effect on wages or upon established industries in the United States.

INTRODUCES MARGIN SHEETS

Government Offers Important Evidence in Trial of Packers.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Thirty-five original margin sheets of the National Packing company for shipments made to Eastern cities between January and August, 1910, and referred to as "the red handed things" by Special Counsel Pierce Butler for the government were read to the jury in the prosecution's circumstantial chain of evidence.

The government contends that the test cost and margin were the means used by the alleged combination of packers to fix the price and that the system used was uniform, although the figures might differ on separate lots of cattle.

Chinese Kills Self Over White Girl.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Wond Nin, a Chinese, committed suicide here because his love for a white girl was not returned. This explanation was left in a note pinned to his blouse. The girl was not named.

INCREASE NOT SATISFACTORY

Churches Gained 594,000 Members During Last Year.

New York, Jan. 27.—Membership of all the churches of the United States increased by 594,000 last year, according to statistics prepared by Dr. H. K. Carroll, formerly director of the religious census. The increase is less than 1.7 per cent. "It cannot be considered at all satisfactory," comments Dr. Carroll. "The canvass shows that the greater part of this country's population are not church members. The body of ministers, one of whose principal duties is obviously to secure converts, is increasing."

The Methodist church shows the greatest proportionate gain in members, 204,000 over 1910. The Roman Catholic church shows the greatest numerical gain, 230,000.

NAGEL PRAISES PRESIDENT

Missouri Editors Cheer Remarks of Cabinet Officer.

Kansas City, Jan. 27.—While five hundred banqueters cheered their approval Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, in an address at the annual banquet of the Missouri Republican Editorial association here, declared that President Taft had fulfilled every pledge of the Republican platform upon which he was elected and cautioned his hearers that when the wave that was sweeping over the country for popular candidates had subsided the party would go back to Mr. Taft, "the president that has accomplished things."

Penalty of Initials.

"It has been my observation," said the pretty girl, "that the greatest difficulty a girl experiences at a coeducational college is disposing of the quantities of shaving soap sent her by manufacturers who copied the names of the entire student body from lists where boys and girls alike are registered by their initials and distributed his samples of soap impartially with the request that the recipient write a testimonial to the effect that it is the best shaving soap she ever used."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Dakota Man Frozen to Death.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 27.—The first toll of a cold wave which settled over the Northwest was taken near Sykeston when the body of a stranger was found lying in the brush beside the road. The man was frozen stiff. He was warmly dressed, but had evidently lost his way in the storm.

Wolves Kill Hunter.

Eagle Grove, Mich., Jan. 27.—The partially devoured remains of a hunter and his two dogs were found near here. There were evidences of a terrible struggle, as near by were the bodies of four wolves, also partially devoured.

The Intelligent Oyster.

It was Mr. Justice Darling who once defined a sheriff as something halfway between an oyster and a lord mayor. But Thackeray anticipated him in attributing human intelligence to oysters. "I was walking with him one evening from the club," wrote Edmund Yates, "and, passing a fish shop in New Street, he noticed two different tubs of oysters, one marked 1 shilling a dozen and the other 1s. 9d. a dozen. 'How they must hate each other!' said Thackeray, pointing them out."—London Telegraph.

Henry Watterson Puts Some Wilson Men in Ananias Club.

RAISING FUNDS FOR GOVERNOR

Kentucky Editor Gives Out Letters Between Him and Senator Tillman of South Carolina in Reference to Governor Wilson's Treatment of Editor Harvey of Harper's Weekly.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Another chapter in the Wilson-Watterson-Harvey controversy was recorded when Colonel Henry W. Watterson made public correspondence that has passed between him and United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina in reference to Governor Wilson's treatment of the editor of Harper's Weekly.

Colonel Watterson, in one of his letters to Senator Tillman, discloses that Governor Wilson had asked him (Watterson) to help in raising a campaign fund. Marse Henry adds that he exerted himself in this direction and that his efforts were not wholly unfruitful. He acknowledges that in the course of his endeavors to raise Wilson money he suggested the name of Thomas F. Ryan as a possible contributor. Instead of resenting this suggestion Wilson's managers, according to the Watterson statement, were "delighted."

Colonel Watterson asserts that Colonel George R. Harvey had nothing whatever to do with the suggestion of Mr. Ryan's name, either in connection with the campaign fund or in any other connection. The Louisville editor characterizes as a lie the statements that have been made by Governor Wilson's friends and agents that such a suggestion was the real cause of the break between Wilson and Harvey. Colonel Watterson adds that he stands ready to prove this assertion if necessary.

In Watterson's opinion Governor Wilson owes it to his own honor to repudiate this story and to disavow those who are circulating the calumny.

Senator Tillman was drawn into the controversy through having commented on the assertions of the Wilson people that Governor Wilson had resented a suggestion by Colonel Harvey that he see Thomas F. Ryan in regard to his campaign.

SAYS WATTERSON IS WRONG

Wilson Denies Asking Colonel to Raise Any Money.

New York, Jan. 27.—Governor Woodrow Wilson on his departure for Boston made the following statement in reference to the Watterson-Tillman correspondence given out in Washington:

"So far as I am concerned the statement that Colonel Watterson was requested to assist in raising money in my behalf is without foundation. Neither I nor any one authorized to represent me ever made any such request of him."

BRANDEIS TALKS OF TRUSTS

Boston Lawyer Supports Lenroth's Sherman Law Amendment.

Washington, Jan. 27.—When Louis D. Brandeis of Boston appeared before the house judiciary committee to discuss the Lenroth amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law, which would read into the statute the "rule of reason" and would make unlawful a restraint of trade through patent rights, counsel for the United Shoe Machinery company objected and asked for a postponement.

The company has been sued by the government as a "trust" largely because of its control of patented machinery.

The committee decided to hear Mr. Brandeis with the understanding that nothing prejudicial to the defendant company would be permitted. In favoring the amendment Mr. Brandeis said that disrespect for the law was largely due to its delays and the further fact that lawyers undertake too often to solve questions of law by technicalities.

BLAMES TWO FOR ACCIDENT

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Probing Illinois Central Collision.

Centralia, Ill., Jan. 27.—The coroner's jury inquiring into the Illinois Central wreck at Kinmundy, Ill., early on Monday morning, brought in a verdict placing the blame for the death of J. T. Harahan and three others upon Henry Schneiderjohn, operator at Edgewater, and Harry J. Broecker, flagman on train No. 25. The jury also found that the railroad company erred in permitting trains to run so close together.

The verdict was returned after two hours' deliberation.

Express Package Vanishes.

Pittsburg, Jan. 27.—That $8,000 consigned by a Pittsburg bank to a bank at Butler, Pa., through the Wells Fargo Express company, mysteriously disappeared last Wednesday night, became known when detectives were detailed to make an investigation. The money was shipped in an exclusive express car over an electrical railway line.

The latest theory is that violent germ activity in the soil, not due to the increased warmth of the sun's rays but to a period inherent in microbes themselves, is the cause of spring. Bring on your germs.

The printing of 40,000 notices in seven different languages to be posted in factories of New York forbidding smoking therein is the remedy taken to reduce the fire loss. It has been ascertained that 3,240 fires in that city were caused by the careless use of matches by smokers.

A. L. Hamilton is to be the next postmaster at Aitkin and will be recommended by Congressman Miller at the close of the term of the present incumbent in April, according to the Hamilton edits the postoffice as well as he has his Aitkin Republican for the past score of years the people of that city will have no cause for com-

The amalgamated twin city political foundry has sent out the news that the reason Bob Dunn has made the announcement that he is not a candidate for lieutenant governor is probably because he has broken with Gov. Eberhart, as it was a fast and loose alliance at best. Thus do the makers of statesman in the twin cities get the opportunity of unmaking them and reap the benefit of a "news" item both ways—coming and going.

The state department has started a campaign of education regarding weights and measures throughout the state and the wisdom learned by those first educated does not seem to be at all consoling. The commissioner in his report states that in the first country town where the scales were inspected for correctness it was discovered that a farmer whose load of beef had been weighed had lost $40 owing to the inaccuracy of the same.
The name of the town is not given out by the commission, but it is an indication of what might happen almost anywhere, especially where no supervision of scales is attempted.

man's age. It is necessary, she adds, that there should be no worry wrinkles and no care wrinkles on the forehead and that any little trick of making grimaces, of frowning and of raising the brows must be conquered before such a model can be chosen.

She offers a few valuable hints upon the subject of forehead treatment and suggests that the best coiffure for the purpose is one curled until the entire head is running over with ripples.
The effect of such a coiffure is that of youth, but it cannot with justice be worn if the countenance be heavily lined and furrowed.

To achieve a forehead as smooth as satin try this method: Use a strip of white satin two inches wide and a piece of linen the same width. The linen is stretched over the forehead, and then the band of satin is smoothly placed over it. The two strips are worn until the wrinkles are smoothed out. Lots of women I know find cold cream a very favorite massage medium. Others use buttermilk, others lard and some unsalted butter. I think buttermilk is particularly good because it softens the skin and gives nourishment, while not making the cuticle too greasy. But I'll tell you one thing that is most important about massaging if you want to erase Time's fingers from the brows, and that is when applying the cream the touch must be light and soft.

Fortunately for the "ugly duckling," good looks are not among the things that can be got "for love or money."
Women nowadays can be comely if not beautiful when they spend time and money with a reliable beauty specialist. In fact, canny women are spending more with these specialists than they are with their dressmakers, for they realize that an elegant gown

MILLINERY HINTS.

Hats Turned Off the Face Are Very Trying.

GOOD TASTE IN FACE FINERY

Women Spending More Money Now-days With Beauty Specialists Than With Their Dressmakers—Ways of Using Old Magazines.

Dear Elsa—I am so sorry I got that hat I told you about in my last letter, the one that turns up abruptly in front, for it shows up every line in my face. It's horrible to have to admit this fact, but now that veils are so little worn over the face a chapeau that turns up in front betrays every blemish that one softening the countenance would be kinder to.

Now, dear, you need have no fear of the hat rolled away from your pretty face, for there's not a telltale line to reveal, but for most of us this millinery fashion is taboo.

A beauty specialist whose criticisms in dress are often sought by her clients says that hats turned up in front announce in a ruthless manner a wo-

VELVET COAT WITH RAG COLLAR.

with a poor complexion is a bad combination, and gowns are being stunted to make way for creamy skins. Not a bad idea? This specialist also told me that modish women are not ashamed of having artificial cheeks. It's funny to hear them discussing the color of their cheeks and asking if a cheek of a little pinker hue would be more becoming. Inspecting one's gowns and hats is a back number among fashionable folk, it seems. Bright red rouges aren't used at present except by professionals. A lighter shade is applied that cannot be detected even in the brightest sunlight. That is why many women are becoming more beautiful.
They are acquiring more taste in face finery, but we old fashioned creatures —you and I, Elsa—I reckon, will let Dame Nature have her way undisturbed, won't we?

What do you do with your old magazines? A friend of mine has just told me of a number of ways in which she makes her old editions useful after they have been thoroughly read. She cuts out all the interesting articles that she is likely to want to refer to later on and pastes them in a book kept for the purpose. Pictures that are good enough to be kept she lays away flat in a box, and in her house there is a charming room papered with good pictures cut from the magazines.
They are arranged in a clever manner, and her children delight in hearing her weave romances about each picture. This thrifty housekeeper then sends the cut-up magazines to the kitchen, where they are used to rub off hot irons or as pads under hot pots and pans taken from the stove and set upon the table. When the pages are scorched or soiled they are torn off and thrown away, leaving a clean one underneath. Lastly, they are used to start the fire or to produce a little extra heat for the broiling of a cake if the oven is not quite hot enough.

I am sending you a sketch of my new long coat, or, rather, it is my last year's velvet wrap brought up to date with one of the smart rag collars and the fashionable side opening. These rag collars are of shirred silk or satin, the old fashioned kind of shirring, with a tiny bit of the material taken up by the needle to form a tiny ruffle. It really looks like a glorified piece of Turkish towel, only my "towel" is a lovely shade of canary yellow satin.
This wrap is my very best evening and reception rig, and the yellow coloring is not unbecoming to my tannish complexion. No, dear, I'm not fishing. I perfectly realize that when the beauty budget was opened I did not receive a peaches and cream skin from Dame Nature.

Write very soon and tell all the interesting news of the family to your chum
MABEL.

A Girl's Wild Midnight Ride

To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catskills a young girl rode horseback at midnight and saved many lives. Her deed was glorious but lives are often saved by Dr. King's New Discovery in curing lung trouble, coughs and colds, which might have ended in consumption or pneumonia. "It cured me of a dreadful cough and lung disease," writes W. R. Patterson, Wellington, Tex., "after four in our family had died with consumption, and I gained 87 pounds." Nothing so sure and safe for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Give Dutch Lunch

Henry Atkinson, the popular East Brainerd barger, gave the patrons of his shop a genuine Dutch lunch last night. About eight o'clock a good crowd of his friends were on hand to find out what that mysterious invitation was about that had hung on the wall for several days and they sure found out. The way Hank cooked the sauer kraut and bow-wows and dished out rye bread was a caution. For two hours the crowd sang songs and told stories, make speeches and adopted resolutions that it was too bad Third avenue could not have been paved with sauer kraut. After wishing Hank many happy days, everybody left for home.

A Hero in a Lighthouse

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck himself, if Elenor Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken other so-called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50c at all druggists.

B. A. Y. INSTALLATION

Homesteads No. 602 and 1601 Graced by Presence of State Mgr. Murphy and Director Swensen

Friday night was gala night in the history of Yoemanry in the city of Brainerd. The officers of Homesteads No. 602 and 1601 were installed, each at their separate halls, by State Manager J. H. Murphy, of Owatonna. Supreme Director Harry S. Swensen, of Minneapolis, delivered addresses at the hall of No. 602 in the Iron Exchange building and at the hall of No. 1601 in the Odd Fellow building. Large audiences greeted him at each place. Mr. Swensen spoke of the ideals of Yoemanry, the possibilities of its moral uplift and the general great progress made by the fraternity. The Brotherhood of American Yoeman now have a membership of 160,000, over half of which was gained in the last five years. The assets of the society amount to $2,000,000 and the benefits paid out total over $6,000,000. Both homesteads vied in serving luncheon and oyster suppers, and the social entertainment offered also included dancing and other amusements.

Supreme Director Swensen spent part of Saturday viewing Brainerd and its environs. He is a practicing attorney of Minneapolis and has recently figured in the world of politics, having been mentioned as a democratic candidate to contest Congressman Nye's seat.

CUYUNA MINING TIMBER COMPANY

Corporation Formed by Charles Wotring and A. O. Wall of Cuyuna and D. A. Robinson of Brainerd

IS CAPITALIZED AT $15,000

Principal Place of Business of the Company is Town of Cuyuna

The Cuyuna Mining Timber company has been incorporated by Charles Wotring and A. O. Wall of Cuyuna and D. A. Robinson of Brainerd.

The general nature of the business of the company shall be to cut, manufacture, buy, sell and otherwise dispose of and deal in mining and other timber and lumber and buy, sell, lease, let and otherwise deal in land as may be necessary or convenient to carrying on such timber and lumber business. The principal place of business is Cuyuna.

The date of the commencement of the corporation is February 15, 1912 and the period of its duration is 30 years. The capital stock is $15,000 and the highest amount of indebtedness allowed is $3,000.

Chinese Queer Ways.

Difficulties of census work among Chinese are amusingly illustrated by the British commissioner at Weihaiwei in his report. "A Chinese child at birth is said to be one year old," he writes, "and after it has passed one new year it is said to be two years old. Thus a child if born in the last month of the year may be said to be two years of age before it is thirty days old according to European reckoning. A child of eighteen months' time of life since birth is reckoned by Chinese to be either two years or three years old, this depending on whether it was born in the first or second half of the year. It is common for a Chinese mother to give a son the name of a girl, presumably to deceive the fates, it being considered easier to bring up a girl. There are many large undivided families in Weihaiwei. The largest is that of a widow named Meng Yu Shih, whose family consists of sixty-six, which, with one servant, makes sixty-seven mouths to the common meal."

Why is a naval captain reduced in rank when he marries? Because he becomes his wife's mate.

WHY THE PAPER IS LATE TODAY

Power Shut Off at 12:30 P. M. and Electric Light Plant Disabled Over 4 Hours

GASOLINE ENGINE BUCKED

Unable to Generate Air to Start the Gas Engines Working—Much Trouble Caused

The Dispatch is late today because the Toltz Engineering Co. has not furnished any power from 12:30 P. M. today and for over four hours or more the presses and linotype have been idle and news piled up with no method of printing it. This loss of power is therefore felt by every reader of the paper and is an inconvenience resulting in a financial loss not only to the paper but to every other power user in the city.

At the power house at three o'clock it was said that a gasoline engine in the basement was the cause of all the trouble. This engine bucked and without it there was no way of generating enough air to start the big engines working.

A small gasoline engine was obtained from W. E. Lively and it was hoped to speedily get power by using it, but an hour has elapsed and nothing in the way of power has been shown.

On several other occasions this week linemen have cut wires leading to the business section and their repairs generally have been made just at the time the paper was going to press.

A number of these exasperating delays can be forgiven, but a three hour shut down exhausts patience.

To tide over matters the Dispatch attached a motor cycle to the linotype.

LAST MEETING HELD

Union Religious Services to be Held Again First Three Weeks in March

The union religious services which have been held in connection with the Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian and Methodist churches of the city, came to a close last evening at the Seventh street Norwegian church, the edifice being completely filled with a fine audience.

The sermon last night dealt with the Christ calling the Fishers of Galilee to become fishers of men, and was an earnest appeal for the attention that should be given by all to the call that comes to men to give earnest heed to the things of the soul, with the Rev. Geo. Phil Sheridan as the preacher, and the Rev. Charles Fox Davis conducting the after services.

The music last evening was given in solo, trio and quartet form, and the singers were Mrs. Ed Peters, Mrs. E. L. Ludwig, Misses Ada and Maud Newgard, Mr. Gussie J. Small and Mr. Harry Newgard, and was among the most effective music given since the services commenced.

The meetings have been so well attended, the interest in spiritual things so deepening, the desire so strong to continue them by the church people, that if it had been possible for all the clergymen to have continued them they would have done so; but the meetings were scheduled for three weeks and several of the pastors have some other things planned for their several churches which made it impossible for them to be present. However, at a meeting of the clergymen at the close of last night's services, they decided to undertake another three weeks campaign to commence the first week in March along the same lines.

On Sunday evening the following exchange of pulpits will take place: Peoples church, Rev. Geo. Phil Sheridan; Baptist church, Rev. W. J. Lowrie; Methodist church, Rev. W. J. Horner; Congregational church, Rev. C. B. Hilton; Presbyterian church, Rev. Charles Fox Davis.

FOLKS PAST FIFTY MUST USE CASCARETS

What Glasses are to Weak Eyes, Cascarets are to Weak Bowels—A 10-cent Box Will Truly Amaze You

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles. So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

HIS MILD REPROOF.

The Mate Let the Captain Down Easy About His Mistake.

The skipper was a man who had a good opinion of himself and his notions. He had pulled through shipwreck, mutiny and other perils of the deep, but he came a cropper once. For one of his voyages he had shipped a boatswain's mate who bore something of a reputation.

One day the skipper ordered him aloft to examine a sail on the royal yard.

"Tain't safe, cap'n," protested the boatswain's mate. "The foot ropes has got to be fixed first."

"Do as I tell you," thundered the captain. "The foot ropes are all right. I know they are."

The man went up. Five minutes later he came tumbling down through the rigging from the top of the mast, a distance of over 100 feet.

With a bang he landed on the belly of the mainsail and bounded into one of the canvas covered boats.

The sailors, thinking him dead, crowded about him in a circle. To their amazement he sat up.

His eyes wandered vacantly about until they rested on the leathery face of the skipper, when they lighted up with intelligence.

"Cap'n," he said slowly, "you was mistaken about them foot ropes."—London Tit-Bits.

VALE OF THE WYE.

Glimpse of an Imposing and Romantic Spot in Wales.

Those who travel through strange places with their eyes and their ears open are likely to make strange discoveries, but there are plenty of other finds which, simply as a delight to the senses and without any wonder or curiosity attending them, are well worth the trouble of trying to forget one's preoccupation in what he sees and hears.

Both these pleasures of travel come to those who will fare slowly and observingly through the Vale of the Wye in Wales. It seems almost like a chapter from some magnificent Apocryphal to travel on to Cader and Plynlimon and glimpse the imposing grandeur of the visions that await the appreciative eye. Half of Wales seems to lie before the traveler. The mountains of the Cader range loom loftily, and Snowdon, the long headland of Carnarvon hugs half a sea in the crook of its arm. Pembroke's ragged capes gleam beyond the lovely mountainous heights. No sound breaks the vast silence. You are shut off from the bustling world. The hawk circles in a noiseless void above the slopes whitened with grazing sheep. For a moment there may be the feeble pipe of the wheatear, and for another brief space a lark may lift praise to heaven. But that is all—Philadelphia North American.

Not Much.

Jess—What did papa say when you asked him?

Jack—Not much.

Jess—But what was it?

Jack—Just that. "Not much"—London Mail.

Charming Christmas Gifts.

A perfumed nightdress case of fine handkerchief linen lined with pink or lavender china silk is a charming gift to make for the woman who loves art.

SEWING BOX AND NIGHTDRESS CASE. Attractive toilet accessories. Such a case is to be found in the cut.

The sewing box is a practical present that will be much appreciated by the busy mother. The box is cut from pasteboard, which is covered with flowered cretonne. The sides, which open and lie flat on the table, have straps for the sewing utensils.

SEA FOOD FAKES.

Popular Fallacies About Shell and Other Fish.

NO GENUINE LITTLE NECKS.

These Luscious Clams Are a Thing of the Past, and Blue Point Oysters Are Mighty Scarce, Yet You May Buy Them Almost Everywhere.

Only about one person in a thousand who orders the luscious bivalve known as the Blue Point really gets the genuine article. The reasons for this are simply, first, because very few Blue Points are raised and, secondly, because the supply is usually marketed in November and December. This brand of oyster takes its name from being grown on beds in the vicinity of Blue Point, in Great South bay, Long Island. The water there is very shoal.

In consequence, when the howling winter nor'westers blow till they virtually empty the bay, any oysters on the beds freeze. To forestall the loss the wise oyster tonger becomes active and markets Blue Points in the fall. It is thus seen that the reason they are so scarce is that they have had only one summer in which to grow. A full sized oyster in that latitude requires two or three years to mature. Nevertheless you can find "Blue Points" on bills of fare in Kansas City at almost any time of year.

Every locality has its pet brand of oyster. Boston has its Cape Cods, New York its Saddle Rocks, Philadelphia its Cape May Salts, Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk their Lynnhavens. Each place is willing to wager that its particular bivalve is the most luscious in the world. Not being particularly averse to starting trouble, the writer wishes to state that, having been born in a New Jersey oyster raising community, reared near the most famous oyster beds of New York and having eaten mollusks harvested along every coast of the United States, he would lay a wager on the Bayou Cook oyster, raised in the gulf of Mexico, for first place in the great oyster sweepstakes, and on the Maurice river oyster raised in Delaware bay for second place. There are many who will agree with me in this oyster rating.

As summer approaches persons who have enjoyed their Blue Points until the advent of the less month of May will, with the same sang froid, order a half dozen Little Neck clams as a prelude to a repast. They get them—not. The Little Neck clam is a thing of the past. He, the genuine, takes his name from Little Neck bay, which lies just where the East river joins Long Island sound.

The title, therefore, is not derived from any particular formation of the clam's anatomy, as most people believe. Clams, unlike oysters, cannot be cultivated on beds prepared for the purpose, but are found in what are termed natural beds. A number of years ago one of these great natural beds was discovered in Little Neck bay, the products of which were of the most toothsome and tender variety. The find was immediately pounced upon by clam rakers from far and near, and the reputation of the Little Neck was made. Although it took only a few years to exhaust the supply, nearly every clam from every bed in the country has since basked in the reflected glory of that Little Neck harvest, and you can still buy "genuine Little Necks" in any sea food emporium from Maine to California.

There are many people who do not know that hard shell crabs and soft shell crabs are identical, the only distinction being that the soft shell crab (for which you pay about three times as much as for the hard shell variety) is simply the crab caught immediately after he has backed out of his old shell and within two or three days of the time when the skin that covers his body has had a chance to harden into the new shell. Soft shell crabs, like certain Irish products, can be "eaten skin and all." They can be fried and made very palatable, whereas the crab with his regular shell in place has to be dug out of his armor and eaten in fragments or served under the menu titles "devilled crab," "crab flakes" or "crab salad."

The popular food finny members of the fish family have as many interesting characteristics as their shell-clad brethren. For instance, all the hotels and restaurants that serve "genuine" Blue Points and Little Necks heretofore referred to also get forth with the same degree of equanimity fillet of sole (in anything that sounds palatable). The proportion of the genuine to the real article in the case of this commodity is even less than with the Blue Points.

The truth is that about ninety-nine times out of a hundred the chefs take our old friend the plebeian flounder, or flatfish, and dress him up as a Frenchman, for real sole in this country must be imported from French waters. Flounders are caught in great quantities all along the Atlantic coast from New Jersey to Maine. Wherever no other fish will bite you can always depend on hooking a number of the old reliable flounders.

The fact that Maine herring when quite young are canned and marketed for sardines done up in olive oil is fairly well known. As the home product is about as tasty and wholesome as the imported article there is not much use of getting excited over the imposition.—Captain C. A. McAllister, Revenue Cutter Service, in Chicago Record Herald.

Gave More Than Milk.
"What're ye comin' home with your milk pail empty for?" demanded the farmer. "Didn't the old cow give anything?"

COLD BREAKS IN FEW HOURS
Most Effective and Harmless Way to Cure a Severe Cold and End all Grippe Misery

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

A RIGHT OF LABOR

That of Placing a Value on Its Own Possessions.

FREE AND FAIR BARGAIN.

True Aim of Trade Unionism is to Convert the Employer From the Idea That He Controls the Personal Business of the Employee.

Here's a noteworthy psychological phenomenon. A business man sets out to buy products from a second business man. He haggles with him over price and quality, comes to terms with him, buys what he wants and then has a good dinner with him, the two conversing amicably. But the products not being finished for his market, being in fact only the raw materials for his manufactory, the buyer next has recourse to a third business man, who also has something for sale. The something is locked up in the third man's skill for moving things—that is, in his physical and mental powers. In other words, the development of his faculties as a worker represents at any given stage of his life a combination of personal activities, a concrete potentiality for output, resultant on his growth in mind and body. But does business man No. 1 as a matter of course sit down amicably on terms of equality with business man No. 3 and bargain and agree on terms and wind up the transaction with a convivial dinner?

If he does not, why not? Why should he not? Wherefore any difference in approaching the two transactions? The answer is, it is all a matter of a psychology.

Put aside the traditions of property versus labor, the advantages of one who has wealth over one who has little or nothing, the power of rich employer to dictate to poor employee, and you introduce a new psychology into this situation as between No. 1 and No. 3. The moment that in any occupation the No. 3's put themselves on a par with the No. 1's, the No. 1's undergo a moral, spiritual and withal practical change. The No. 1's are then able to see that the No. 3's are in business as well as themselves.

Given a very wealthy and independent No. 1 who must have the business co-operation of a self-reliant and equally independent No. 3—or organization of No. 3's—and the psychological transformation is effected in him instantaneously by the circumstance must. The order of business becomes immediately one of free and fair bargain, of equality in negotiation, with a common desire for agreement, usually followed by success in coming to terms, and then perhaps following dinner, with a better understanding.

Upon finding No. 3 as independent as No. 2 it could never occur to No. 1 that he could charge No. 3 of "hostility to my business" for plainly stating what value No. 3 puts on his own possessions (his labor power), what time per day he would consent to devote in delivering them and what protection to his health and what insurance as to safety must be guaranteed him. These points would come up as between gentlemen as a matter of course.

Thus it is seen that a true and profound aim of trade unionism is the conversion of the employer from the superstition that the jurisdiction of his business extends over into and envelops the proper personal business of the employee. As a fact, it did so pass over for many a long year, but never justly. It did so when No. 3 was slave and No. 1 was master and when No. 3 was a nonunionist and No. 1 said: "Come! Go! Work twelve hours a day seven days a week! Moreover, you'll take what wages I think you are worth!"

The human mind is prone to shut itself up in the dark depths of selfishness. Light usually comes to it only when forced in through the trials of necessity. So long as the No. 1's of this world had things their own way they thought that they themselves were rightfully the only wielders of power as owners of "the whole business." They grow out of this unreason now, as they just as the No. 3's gain a counter force to theirs and a sense of proprietorship in what truly is their own share of the business—their labor, their bodies, their will, their right to bargain.

Illustrations of this truth are frequently seen when a union wins in a contest with an employer who has been mistaken on this point of his property—his investment and his own labor—being the whole business. He is usually glad when the trouble is over to resume his part of the business—after the employees have decided to resume their part. He then knows that in the business of buying and selling labor there are two sides concerning two sets of business men. He may even remember that before the late unpleasantness he had been guilty of hostility to his employees' business. They were obliged to teach him the difference between what was his and what was theirs.—American Federationist.

The Actress (disdainfully)—Twenty dollars a week! Why, whom do you think you're trying to engage?
Manager of bush repertoire company—Why—er—I beg your pardon, madam, but which New York theater is named after you?—Puck.

Sure Sign.
"Do you think they are engaged?"
"I think so. They're giving a family party tomorrow night so that all the relatives can meet him."—Detroit Free Press.
